KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

J. Robert Flores is Administrator, Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP), Office of Justice Programs (OJP), U.S. Department of Justice.

Mr. Flores is responsible for the agency that congress has mandated to address the public safety issues of juvenile crime and youth victimization. His OJJDP leadership responsibilities include identifying effective strategies for addressing juvenile crime through research; coordinating, implementing, and supporting effective programs and encouraging innovative approaches to deal with existing and emerging juvenile justice issues; developing priorities and goals and setting policies to guide federal juvenile justice issues; providing technical assistance and training to essential components of the juvenile justice system; disseminating information on juvenile justice trends, programs, and new approaches; and awarding funds to states to support local programming nationwide.

Dr. Bruce I. Wolford is Director of the Eastern Kentucky University (EKU) Training Resource Center (TRC). The Center provides training, facilitation, research, and evaluation services to a variety of public and private sector clients. He has served as a Professor of Correctional and Juvenile Justice Studies in the College of Justice and Safety at EKU since 1979. Dr. Wolford has worked in the areas of staff development, training and facilitation in corrections, juvenile justice and child welfare for the past 30 years.

Dr. Wolford currently serves on the Board of Governors of the American Correctional Association, and is a past president of the Correctional Education Association. Bruce earned his Ph.D. in adult education and administration of criminal justice from Ohio State University. Prior to joining the faculty at EKU he worked a teacher, counselor and administrator in the Ohio correctional system.
