Conference Information

The Florida Department of Education, the Florida Association of Instructional Supervisors and Administrators (FAISA) and the Florida Association of School Administrators (FASA) invite you to participate in the 6th Annual Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment Leadership Conference. This annual, one of a kind conference, will attract over six hundred education curriculum, instruction and assessment professionals from throughout the state. This is an opportunity for you to meet with your colleagues, DOE personnel and educational product representatives in an environment that facilitates the sharing of ideas and successful strategies among practicing educators.

Refund Policy

You must notify FASA in writing no later than December 18, 2002 if you wish to cancel your conference registration. There will be a $30 administrative processing fee deducted from your final refund. After December 18, 2002 no refunds will be issued.

Exposition

The Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment Leadership Conference will offer the latest information on educational products and services. Over ninety exhibitors will be available to show you their newest products and materials as well as answer your questions. Discover new trends in curriculum resources, instructional materials and assessment technologies through hands-on demonstrations and candid conversations with educational product representatives. DOE Exhibits that feature DOE Programs and Offices, as well as the Educational Technology Lab will be located in the Exhibit Hall area.

Keynote Presenters:

Dr. Harry K. Wong

“How to Achieve Maximum Success in the Classroom”

Harry K. Wong’s presentations result in positive audience behavior change. He leaves his audiences with practical, useful techniques for how to succeed in the classroom. His expertise is in classroom management and student motivation. In his over 33 years in the classroom, he developed methods that caused him to have no discipline problems, have zero dropout rate, have a 95% homework turn-in factor and the ability to demonstrate mastery learning for each of his students. Harry Wong’s presentation is of universal appeal. Business people, homemakers, students, and people for all walks of life will profit personally from his message of self-motivation.

Dr. Jay McTighe

“Curriculum and Standards”

Jay McTighe is well known for his work with “thinking skills,” having coordinated statewide efforts to develop instructional strategies, curriculum models, and assessment procedures for improving the quality of student thinking. He is author of several journal articles and books on assessing learning, performance assessment, educational leadership, and thinking skills; including Understanding by Design. Having been a classroom teacher, resource specialist, program coordinator, and state consortium director, McTighe brings a wealth of experience to his presentations.
