The Florida Department of Education's Healthy Schools Summer Academy is June 9 - 10, 2014, at the University of Florida's Straughn Extension Center in Gainesville, Florida. This fifth annual professional development event will commence at 12:30 p.m. with a child human trafficking keynote address. Plenary and break-out sessions will provide information and resources focusing on Florida standards, safe and supportive environments, physical activity, nutrition and health literacy.

Health education and physical education are required instruction for grades K-12. This academy is a professional development opportunity for teachers of health education and physical education content with special emphasis on other subject area courses with integrated health education benchmarks. Teachers of English language arts and science are encouraged to attend.

Online registration will open Monday, March 3, and will close Friday, April 4, at a cost of $50.00 per person. The academy registration link can be accessed on the Healthy Schools website at <http://www.fldoe.org/BII/CSHP/> beginning Monday, March 3, 2014.

For more information, please contact Michelle L. Gaines at Michelle.Gaines@fldoe.org or by phone at 850-245-0978.
